

Surgical Bleached Absorbent Cotton wool of every type based on customer's requirement

Description

Surgical Bleached Absorbent Cotton wool of every type based on customer's requirement, bleached on computerized, fully automated autoclaves. Quality and Production related tests are held at every stage of production to ensure production of high quality goods. Only hydrogen peroxide is used in the bleaching process. Bales weighing approximately 160 kg are packaged in laminated woven polypropylene sheets. It can be used in medical products, nonwoven, cosmetic and many other related items.

160KG 560x965
Bale Di x1020
mensio mm
ns:
40? HC 120
Contain Bales
er:
// //